Highlights from the Energy Code Class

~Residential Prescriptive requirements~ Table 6-1, Option 1: There are changes in glazing percentages, glazing U Values and there is new language for vaulted ceiling, which limits it to 500 sf. of ceiling area for any one dwelling. There was a brief discussion of corner framing in exterior walls then we talked about Cellulose depth, bag count, insulation markers, and how to verify that markers have not been tampered with. Gary ended the Residential portion of the class discussing HVAC System Sizing and duct sealing materials.

~Non-Residential~ There is a new Table for Economizer Compliance Options, Table 11-1 and new language for Semi Heated Exceptions. Gary reviewed the Washington State Non-Residential Energy Code compliance forms. There was a discussion on the Mechanical systems commissioning requirements. Did you know that Radiant floors could be insulated horizontal for not less than '36" instead of having the entire slab insulated if soil conditions warrant such insulation?

Did you get your new 2008 ICC pin?

Rack System Requirements

Separate permit required.

- a. Provide plans and details for proposed storage racks. Include a floor plan showing the layout of all proposed racks. Steel storage racks exceeding 6 feet in height shall comply with the design requirements of IBC 2208 and RMI Specifications for the Design, Testing and utilization of Industrial Steel Storage Racks. Engineered structural calculations must be submitted to assure adequacy of the racks to resist seismic stresses in accordance with the provisions of Section 15.5.3 if ASCE 7. Buildings erected or converted to house high-pile combustible stock or aerosols shall comply with the International Fire Code.

Per IFC 2301.3., plans for storage racks shall include:

- Floor plan showing location and dimensions of high-pile storage areas.
- Usable storage height for each storage area.
- Number of tiers within each rack, if applicable
- Commodity clearance between top of storage and sprinkler deflectors.
- Aisle dimensions between storage array.
- Maximum pile volume for each storage array.
- Location of commodities which are banded or encapsulated.
- Location of required fire department access doors.
- Type of fire-suppression and fire-detection systems.
- Location of valves controlling the water supply of ceiling & in-rack sprinklers.

- Type, location and specification of smoke-removal and curtain board systems.
 - Dimensions and location of transverse and longitudinal flue spaces.
- b. All rack installation shall display in one or more conspicuous locations a permanent plaque each not less than 50 square inches in area and showing the maximum permissible unit load in clear, legible print in accordance with RMI 1.4.2. Compliance shall be verified during field inspection.
- c. Per IBC 1707.6, special inspection is required during the anchorage of storage racks 8-feet or greater in height in this seismic zone.
- d. Per IBC 1704.1.1, the permit applicant shall submit a statement of special inspections prepared by the registered design professional in responsible charge as a condition of permit issuance. This statement shall include a list of the individuals, approved agencies or firm intended to be responsible for conducting such inspections.

The inspection program shall include samples of inspection reports and provide time limits for submission of reports. The Special Inspection program shall specify that field welders, special inspectors and the special inspection agency are required to be certified by the Washington Association of Building officials.
